

Lonnie Johnson - Wood Art

Handmade, One of a Kind Woodburning Creations

Lonnie Johnson is enjoying his retirement after a life of service as a Navy Veteran, Police Chief, and City Worker. He lives in the same little town in Iowa he grew up in with his wife and some not-so-stray cats. Lonnie has always had an artistic gift; woodworking, drawing, painting, and gardening amongst other things. Nowadays you can find him in his basement man cave using his gift toward his newest hobby, his beautiful woodburning creations. At MonkeyBug, we see him as a pretty Big DIL (Dad-in-Law), Dad, and awesome Grandpa to our Monkey Girl and Love Bug! Check out the pic below when our now-adult babies were littles!

Lonnie and MonkeyBug are partnering to donate 5% of proceeds from the sale of his artwork to our spotlight cause, CASA of Central Texas & CASA of Travis County.

Pricing for Lonnie Johnson - Wood Art pieces is on the back of each piece

